

Geological Society of Nevada Foundation

2175 Raggio Parkway, Room 107 • Reno, NV 89512 • USA
(775) 323-3500 • FAX (775) 323-3599
gsn@gsnv.org • www.gsnv.org

SCHOLARSHIP OPPORTUNITIES FOR 2020

1. The GSN-Great Basin Geology Scholarship

- Open to full-time graduate students studying at UNR for a degree in the earth sciences
- The candidate must be a member or student member in good standing of GSN (www.gsnv.org)
- The candidate's research must be directed towards fundamental geologic problems in the Great Basin.
- The scholarship award money will be spent on research costs including field work or analytical work, and can also be used towards travel to one meeting per year if the student is giving a paper or presenting a poster on the funded research.
- Application period open from January 1, 2020 through May 31, 2020 for scholarship(s) to be awarded at the beginning of Fall Semester, 2020
- Must be an active member in good standing of the Geological Society of Nevada
- 2020 Scholarship(s) to be awarded: Up to $7500 in scholarship funding

2. The GSN-D.D. La Pointe Scholarship

- Open to undergraduate and graduate students studying at the Mackay School of Earth Science and Engineering for a degree in earth sciences related to the minerals field.
- The candidate must be a member or student member in good standing of GSN (www.gsnv.org)
- Major fields of study recognized for the scholarship are geological sciences, geological engineering, economic geology and other related majors.
- The main criterion for awarding the scholarship will be a demonstrated interest and commitment to the minerals industry
- Application period open from January 1, 2020 through May 31, 2020 for scholarship(s) to be awarded at the beginning of Fall Semester, 2020
- Must be an active member in good standing of the Geological Society of Nevada
- 2020 Scholarship(s) to be awarded: Up to $10,000 in scholarship funding

3. The GSN-Brian Morris Scholarship

- Open to full-time undergraduate and graduate students studying at an accredited university for a degree in the earth sciences and a demonstrated commitment to Nevada mineral deposit exploration or research.
- The candidate must be a member or student member in good standing of GSN (www.gsnv.org)
- The scholarship award money will be spent on field work or analytical costs related to the student's degree program or research, however consideration will also be given to students needing tuition support.
- Application period open from January 1, 2020 through May 31, 2020 for scholarship(s) to be awarded at the beginning of Fall Semester, 2020
- 2020 Scholarship(s) to be awarded: Up to $2000 in scholarship funding

Scholarship guidelines and application materials may be found at www.gsnv.org
From the GSN home page, click on GSN Foundation then Scholarship Opportunities

*The amount and number of scholarships to be awarded in any year will be partially dependent on the investment performance of the fund and the number of applicants.